Great Longstone

Great Longstone is located approximately 2.5 miles north of Bakewell. Hassop lies approximately 1 mile to the east and the Monsal Head tourist attraction a mile to the west. It was traditionally a farming community up until 1786 when a cotton mill was built and in production until the 1830's.

The Great Longstone Conservation Area was designated in 1995. Some properties/land within the village had been within the ownership of the Wright family since the 14th century with records of a house dating back to 1300. The current Hall was built in 1747 to replace a previous building.

Great Longstone is located within the valley farmlands with villages' landscape character area of the Derwent Valley (LSAP 2009).

Hassop

Hassop initially grew around the local lead mines. The Eyre family built Hassop Hall in the 17th Century and subsequently extended and remodelled it during the mid-19th century; it is now a hotel. The Eyre family also built All Saints Church in the early 19th century.

Hassop station was built in 1863 and closed in 1964. It is now a café and bookshop with a large car park to facilitate tourists cycling or walking along the Monsal Trail.

The Conservation Area was designated in 1996 and has an accompanying Appraisal.

Hassop is located within the estate lands character area of the Derwent Valley (LSAP 2009).
